AIM and TOPICS

Objectives

The objective of the International Conference is to establish and try to consolidate a preferred forum where the specialists of control systems, software engineers, mathematicians and IT communities meet together to present and discuss the new developments.

The main targets of this Conference can be briefly summarized: to review, present and discuss the innovation in the Modeling, Measurement, Control Systems and Simulation Methods.

System Modelling Control (SMC) is a periodic international conference whose scope covers systems theory, modelling, simulation, diagnosis, control, signal and image processing, as well as their applications.

The aim of the Conference is to bring together scientists dealing with the above mentioned fields, to help exchange information on dominant trends as well as on current research projects carried out in these disciplines throughout the world, to motivate pursuit of new research challenges, and to offer possibilities for new contacts that encourage collaboration and may give rise to joint applications for European and domestic scientific grants.

The Conference covers a wide spectrum of topics in three thematic areas like, SYSTEMS MODELLING and CONTROL. There will be Oral and Poster communications as well as Plenary Conferences presented by specialists of the academic and industrial world with recognized competence in these fields. These three areas include among other, the following topics:

Area 1: SYSTEM

- System research
- Signal and image processing
- Coupled systems and special applications
- Intelligent hybrid systems
- Integrated information systems (Data Base and Expert Systems)
- E-learning systems
- Web-based information systems

Area 2: MODELLING

- Modelling and simulation methodology
- Computational intelligence
- Software engineering
- Optimization and computer interactive design, software methodology
- Visualization methods and tools
- Application of artificial intelligence in computer systems modeling
- Nano and micro systems modelling
- Algorithms and Numerical Techniques
- Evolutionary algorithms

Area 3: CONTROL

- Control and diagnosis
- Intelligent control (neural networks and fuzzy systems)
- Digital signal processing
- Computer based control systems

Particular attention is focused on the applications of computer science in terms of its methods to:

- ◆ engineering
- ◆ biomedicine
- ◆ education
- ◆ ecology
- ◆ economics

Structure of the Conference

The Conference will run according to the following structure:

- Invited oral plenary sessions
- Oral Sessions
- Poster Sessions
- Technical exhibition incorporating selected Companies

The tentative participation fee will be approximately 420 Euro. The participation fee will cover the admission in the Conference with one paper, lunches and coffee breaks during the Conference, Conference Proceedings, Welcome Cocktail and Gala Dinner, and accommodation (2 nights).

ENGLISH will be the official language of Symposium. Only original and previously unpublished papers will be presented at the Conference.
